Sgt. Ryan Gets Hq Job In Sheriff's Shuffle

Sgt. Henry "Hank" Schilpp, 35, replaced Sgt. Robert E. Ryan as chief of the Lemon Grove office of the Sheriff's El Cajon sub-station Monday. It was announced Friday by San Diego County Sheriff Joseph O'Connor.

Sgt. Ryan has been assigned to the Sheriff's Business Office in downtown San Diego. The Lemon Grove office is at 3440 Main st.

Sgt. Schilpp, who has served in the Sheriff's service for eight years, has been in the Records and Patrol Division and for two years was Constable at Ramona. He was promoted to sergeant in May, 1964. Sgt. Schilpp will be in charge of the office at Lemon Grove and in charge of detectives operating out of the El Cajon sub-station. Patrol officers will be responsible to the El Cajon station.

Sgt. Ryan joined the Sheriff's Department in 1942 and served in the Jail Division, Patrol Division, Business Office and Fugitive Detail. He separated from the Department for a year in 1952 because of the illness of his father, Earl C. Ryan, a realtor.

He returned in 1953 to the Sheriff's business Office handling records and identification. The same year he went to school for Narcotics Inspectors in Los Angeles. He served in Narcotics until he was transferred to the Lemon Grove area in 1954. He was promoted to Sergeant in 1957.

Sheriff O'Connor said that transfers are routine to keep training and activities varied. "It is possible he'll be back at the Lemon Grove office," the Sheriff said.

Sgt. Ryan, in addition to being in charge of the Lemon Grove office was the sergeant in charge of the detectives working from Lemon Grove.

Progress Halts For Pie Baking

The Sweetwater road improvement reached the pie-baking stage last week.

It happened Friday afternoon when utilities workers announced door-to-door that the current was going to be cut off right away.

Mrs. O. V. Brandt, 3200 Sweetwater, the wife of a carpenter rebelled.

"You can't do it now. I've got two pumpkin pies in the electric oven," she said flatly. "It'll be 20 minutes before they are done."

The foreman yelled to a worker atop a nearby utility pole. "Hold it 20 minutes, Joe, pie is cooking."

The worker yelled to a man on the next pole on Sweetwater. "Hold it 20 minutes for a pie." He, in turn, yelled it to the next man.

Mrs. Brandt said the 5 men stayed at the top of the poles until she said the pies were done. Only then was the current cut.

The workers got pieces of pumpkin pie when they took their lunch break Monday-compliment of the Brandt family.

La Mesan Leads Protest On Proposed Freeway

A La Mesa man is circulating a petition to prevent the State Division of Highways from building a freeway along the eastern side of Bancroft rd. An alternate route, west of Sweetwater rd. is preferable, he said.

The man, W. A. Brinkley of 4272 Camino Paz, La Mesa, has called a meeting at the Spring Valley Junior High School for Friday night at 6:30 p.m.

Brinkley said he wanted to get his meeting in ahead of the public hearing scheduled for Aug. 18.

He said the eastern route would be more costly. Jake Dekema, State Division of Highways District Engineer said the cost would be the same for either route.

The project is an extension of the South Bay Freeway from Blossom ln. near Mt. Miguel high school to State Freeway 94.

Mrs. Byron Netzley Undergoes Surgery

Mrs. Byron Netzley, wife of the superintendent of the Lemon Grove School District is recovered from surgery at Grossmont Hospital.

She is expected to return home in about 10 days from the date of the operation which was Monday.

Farewell To Sergeant Bob Ryan

Detective Sgt. Robert E. Ryan is leaving the Sheriff's Lemon Grove office for a post in the Sheriff's downtown business office.

As a result, many residents of the Spring Valley and Lemon Grove area are losing a mighty fine friend and a splendid officer. Ryan isn't exactly retiring, or dying, but he's being transferred to the steps of the business office from whence little is heard of people again.

Sgt. Ryan is the most respected law officer we have known in our many years of covering news stories for various newspapers. He is, among other things, a gentleman. He never felt that he had to "throw his weight around" to accomplish his mission.

He never felt that any of the jobs that came into his sphere of authority was too mere for him to handle.

He ran the Lemon Grove Sheriff's office and was in charge of detectives in the Spring Valley, Lemon Grove, and East County areas. Probably more bicycles are lost in this area than anywhere else in the County. Sheriff's detectives, burdened by many duties involving more violent crimes, do not like to be saddled with taking lost bike reports. In some communities, Coronado, for example, the police won't accept such reports. They reason that it's up to parents to make kids keep a lock on their vehicles.

Here, Sgt. Ryan handled most of the bike squawks himself, in addition to other duties. The "sergeant in charge of bikes", some of us labeled him. But it was a respectful label because we have seen broken-hearted youngsters report their losses to him and leave the Sheriff's office heartened by his interest.

We believe his interest is responsible for many youths growing to adults with a healthy respect for law and order because of their contact as a child with Sgt. Ryan. Usually each contact blossomed into a beautiful friendship. In addition he recovered more stolen bikes for the kids than any other officer we know.

He also earned a reputation for "covering" his men. Whenever one of his men was on a trouble call, Sgt. Ryan assigned himself as the first "cover" officer. Only then would he assign more "back-up" men to the job. It follows that his courage has never been questioned in the 22 years he served the Sheriff.

One of his fellow officers said, "Sgt. Ryan is an officer's officer. You can always depend on him to do the right thing at the right time."

CAMPAIGN TOTAL HITS 363 AS 45 MORE READERS JOIN

The new reader total for this publication reached 363 in the present campaign for added subscribers as 45 names were added to the rolls this week. These are added to the approximately 4,000 who get the newspaper in Spring Valley now.

Again, all of the readers are Spring Valley families since that is where Ed Boyd, the campaign manager, has been working. He says that he will achieve a total of 1,000 families who will have subscribed in the present campaign. It will bring the Spring Valley family total readership to more than 5,000.

The sister paper published in Lemon Grove will undergo the same campaign after Spring Valley is completed and 1,000 readers will be added there. The combination of the two newspapers will be maintained at more than 10,000 subscribers.

The east county facility is at 1374 East Lexington ave., El Cajon. Retarded children not qualified for public schools are trained here. Angels Unaware earmarks the contributions for playground equipment.

icited. Or when anyone obtains two, new one-year subscriptions from their neighbors or friends.

The circulation campaign is a continuing effort to make the newspaper a more effective force in the community.

This week's new reader list includes the following Spring Valley families:

Mrs. Henry A. Garcia, 811 Grand ave.
Mrs. Raymond F. Baker, 3428 Gillespie dr.

Four District Proposal OK'd By School Board

The Lemon Grove School Board approved the expenditure of $1,999,664 for the coming fiscal school year in jig time Monday night.

It was the annual public hearing on the budget at which time the public may be heard. The audience was comprised of three people: P. Reynolds, the district business manager and his secretary, and this reporter.

The hearing opened at 8:02 p.m. and was over 2 minutes later. In other school business search on a strip of land between Buena Vista and Olive street which is 485 x 15 feet in size. The strip is cut by Highway 94 and a study made by Superintendent Netzley indicated that the property belonged to the school.

The Board adopted a resolution endorsing a four-district proposal proposed by the County Committee on School District Organization. Board Member Jack Lang asked that it be made a matter of record that the Board is in opposition to a single school district being pushed by the Grossmont High School District. Members Robert Sjogren and Warren Buckner rejected the request because the State Department of Education will accept no oppositions - only affirmations.

Board Members Lyle Stumbaugh and Bert Cosby were not present. Byron Netzley, district superintendent was absent due to his wife undergoing surgery.

Possibility that Lemon Grove would have a display for the opening of the new convention center in San Diego was discussed. Other clubs will be asked to participate.

A flag, donated to the Chamber by Mrs. Louise May Sumner, will be flown from the plaza flagpole. The flag was her deceased husband's. He was a veteran of WWI.

Director Bob Howell showed drawings of a float designed by his wife. The float is being built on a trailer acquired by Howell. When Howell got the trailer (free of charge) he was made float chairman.

More Parks Needed Says Henry Boney

Henry Boney, candidate for second district supervisor, today promised to make a complete study on the need for additional county park and recreational facilities in San Diego.

Boney, speaking in Spring Valley at the home of Mrs. Doris Schafer, expressed his concern that county facilities are inadequate. "I have been approached by numerous persons who say we need new parks and additional facilities at existing parks," Boney said. "A quick look at park locations indicates that some heavily populated areas are completely devoid of park facilities.

Boney has expressed the opinion that parks and recreational centers play an important part in curbing juvenile delinquency and contribute to the general health of the community.

Boney who received more primary votes than his three opponents, faces incumbent David Bird in a run-off Nov. 3.

AUTO DEALER FIRM EXPANDS PAINT FACILITY

A paint oven has been added to the facilities at Spears Ford, it was announced this week by Pat Grace, general manager of the firm.

A new metal building, built like a bake oven with powerful heater and forced air units, permits paint sprayers to provide a factory-like finish to repainted autos, according to Grace.

The unit represents an outlay of $7,000, he said. The number of employees working in the paint oven and body departments now totals seven although the paint and body shop itself is a separate unit from the paint oven.

Grace said that the paint and body facility is being enlarged at present to accommodate a growing volume of work.

Columnist Writes Book of S.W. Lore

Peter Odens, the columnist who writes "Southwest Corner", a feature appearing in this newspaper from time to time, has written a book.

Following the format of his popular columns, he has put together 33 stories of the people whose lives will forever be part of the lore of the states comprising the southwest corner of the U.S.

His book, "Outlaws, Heroes and Jokers of the Old Southwest" is successful in humanizing the people who pioneered the southwest. The work is in five chapters. One each deals with ghost towns, oldtimers, adventure, Indians, and romance. It is light and interesting reading.

The author, Odens, was born in Germany in 1914 and had to leave the country when Hitler came into power. In Shanghai in 1937 he was forced to travel again because of the Japanese. He moved to the Philippine Islands until after WWII. In Manila, he met his wife, a Thai, who was working on a degree at Silliam U. He was stricken with paralysis and had to learn to walk again. After his recovery he came to the U. S. with $5 in his possession. He and his wife settled in El Centro and from there he splits his time writing and selling men's suits for a midwest firm.

Summer Students Dig Into Their Studies At Monte Vista High

Summer students in a Monte Vista High School archeology and anthropology class were able to dig into their studies this summer.

The class of 30 divided into two teams. Each team created a hypothetical culture. They made and then buried artifacts of their cultures for the other team to find.

Each team then dug up these artifacts made by the other team and then recreated what they imagined the original culture to be.

In this method the science of archeology was examined systematically and at first hand through field experience.

The class was taught by Jerome Lipetzky, geography and history teacher at El Capitan High School, and George Gray of the Monte Vista High School Art Department.

Last week the class held open house and showed visitors what they had accomplished during the seven-week course. The class was held four hours a day.

Social Security Question Box

By Guy Deeks

Do you know what your rights and obligations are under the Federal Social Security Law? Typical questions about Social Security will be answered in this column. This is a public service of this paper in cooperation with the San Diego District Office of the Social Security Administration.

QUESTION: I worked under Social Security for a short time during the war. A few years ago I was told that I hadn't worked long enough under Social Security to qualify. Could I make up the quarters I need now even though I am over 65?

ANSWER: Yes, by doing some work now that is covered by Social Security you can, but check with the Social Security office first. In the last several years the amount of work needed to qualify for Social Security benefits has been cut in half. The amount of work you did during the war may now be enough and qualify you.

QUESTION: What information does the Social Security Administration need for a change of address on my benefit checks?

ANSWER: Always give them your full name, your claim number and the full address to which you want the checks sent. This information must be in writing and must be signed by the person to whom the check is payable.

ENGAGED — Mr. and Mrs. Bob Rundell announced the engagement of their daughter, Nancy J. Abbey, to James D. Carolus, U.S.M.C., son of Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Carolus of Portland, Ore. Miss Abbey, of 8533 Gateside rd., is a graduate of Grossmont High School and attended both San Diego State College and Grossmont Junior College. Mr. Carolus attended Oregon State University and will resume his studies at the University of California. An October wedding is planned.

Experimental Course Will Provide More Class Time For Student Work

An experimental basic speech course in which virtually all the class time will be given over to student speeches is being developed by Grossmont College instructors Jack McAuley and Jane Spooner. The University of Arizona Speech Department has already asked permission to use materials the local instructors are preparing.

McAuley said the idea of the course developed out of a desire to eliminate waste time in orienting students to the subject, Oral Communication. McAuley and Mrs. Spooner both observed that not only did the lectures and demonstrations by the teacher cut into student speech time excessively, but also that students varied considerably in the amount of time they required for orientation.

The solution which McAuley and Mrs. Spooner have found is to record on tape a series of lectures, sample speeches and samples of most of the speaking assignments that are required in the course. The tapes will be made available at the library listening station and the student will be required to listen to the tapes individually at times selected by the student.

As a result, McAuley and Mrs. Spooner said, class periods will be devoted entirely to student speeches and analysis by the instructor.

Knowledge Sprouts For Thirty Pupils In Summer Class At Highlands School

Crops ranging from corn to cucumbers are growing in a field across from Highlands School in Spring Valley. Responsible for their planting and subsequent care are 30 fourth, fifth and sixth graders enrolled in Miss Merle C. Tendler's summer school class at Highlands.

Miss Tendler said that the land for the past few years has been loaned to pupils by Tom Kida, local farmer. This year Kida also donated seeds. Water is carried from the school to the field in a varied array of buckets and watering cans.

Each pupil staked out the land he needed. He cleared and tilled the soil, planted the seed, and tended the crops. Crops raised this year include corn, peppers, radishes, tomatoes, squash, cucumbers, kale and turnips.

According to Miss Tendler, Each pupil will receive a course certificate at the close of the season. Each certificate will have the imprint of a green thumb.

CADET — Civil Air Patrol Cadet John M. Proctor of Spring Valley gives air traffic control instructions during a Federal Aviation Agency sponsored orientation course at Will Rogers World Airport. Proctor was among 52 selected cadets from the 50 states, District of Columbia, and Puerto Rico who spent a week at the FAA Academy in Oklahoma City. He received briefings on the history, organization and operation of the government agency. He is the son of Mrs. Mary M. Proctor of Spring Valley.

LM-SV School Budget Passed Over Protest

The La Mesa-Spring Valley School District board of trustees Monday night approved the final budget for 1964-65 in the amount of $6,904,622. There were three yes votes and two no votes; Dr. Cyril Padfield and Mrs. Anna Dewey voting against. Dr. Padfield contended the figure was too high. It is $618,370 over last year's budget.

A spokesman for the district said the reason for the higher budget is that there is a new teacher pay hike and that now, under a new law, the district's school cafeteria wages must be paid out of the general fund and not from the cafeteria funds.

The Lords Of The Land

By Joan Imig

We don't have nobility among us in the decades of the sixties, not in America, — but we do have a new kind of nobility, perhaps not descendants of Kings and Queens, but surely ranging high in the affairs of the people. Our new nobility, here in the San Diego area, are not descendants of the early Spanish Dons, who came here in the 18th century — and introducing charming customs and a way of life, — but they do have one thing in common. They are Lords of the Land — Barons of the good, green earth.

If you want to see their holdings take a good look at the Valley from Lemon Grove to Rancho Bernardino — making it possible for those so inclined to live the good life on spacious land in gracious, rambling homes. Here in San Diego County such a Lord of the Land can be found in the "El Jardin Verde" Subdivision, under the direction of Mortenson & Associates, specializing in spacious homes for gracious living, homes designed for comfort and the western way of life, right on our own homefront. The El Jardin Verde Subdivision is located at Avocado and Horizon Hills Drive, on the east side of the Mt. Helix section of El Cajon.

Camera Is Loot

Coin Controls Taken

The coin receptacle from machines in a washer room of an apartment building at 3566 Helix st., Spring Valley, was stolen almost from under the eyes of the manager.

George Swearentin told police that he had put two coins in the machine and went into the apartment building. A few minutes later, when he returned, the receptacle was taken off, emptied and the parts thrown in a waste basket. Swearentin said that the building had been plagued by provokers several times lately and he suspects that the two complaints might be connected.

A prowler who has been plaguing residents of the Helix st. area Spring Valley, was almost caught Wednesday by Paul Spafford of 3560 Helix st. Spafford chased the suspect down Helix st. until he was lost from view about midnight. The prowler is a white, blonde male, who weighs about 160 lbs. He was also seen recently on James dr. in Spring Valley.

Theft Solved Quickly

It took Sheriff's detective Jim Moore only one day to solve the crime of the missing range and garbage disposal after the theft was reported Wednesday by representatives of Bollenbacher and Kelton, developers.

The items, valued at $190, were taken from a B&K house at 811 Thayer st., Spring Valley.

Detective Moore reported that James Russell Wilson, 36, a plaster of 829 Felicita st., Spring Valley, admitted Thursday that he had taken them and implicated an accomplice. He was placed under arrest by Moore.

Money Taken

Mrs. R. Balingier, 3516 Garcia Paseo rd., S.V., told police Friday that $45 was left on the teevee set Thursday when she and her husband went to bed.

The next morning, after her husband went to work, she discovered the money gone and her husband didn't take it. She named a suspect.

A Las Vegas couple were arraigned Tuesday on a narcotics charge after sheriff's deputies stopped them Sunday morning at Broadway and Massachusetts because of erratic driving.

Dudley R. Green, 32, and his wife, Patricia, 23, were charged with being under the influence of narcotics and possession of heroin.

El Cajon Municipal Court Judge Alfred Lord set bail at $750 each and set Aug. 13 for preliminary hearing.

Sheriff's deputies I. King and R. Jacobs said the Green's car was westbound in a eastbound lane on Broadway.

Hon. Robert Dent
Chairman of the Board of Supervisors

San Diego, California

Dear Bob:

To you and through you we are addressing this letter to the members of the board. We feel that in the light of the considerable recession we have had in the values of real estate in many parts of San Diego, continually due to the fact of the cutback in employment both in the Navy and at Convair, General Dynamics and Aeronautics, that the matter of raising assessed valuation at this time is completely not keeping with the best interests of the people of San Diego. The taxpayer has had a very difficult time, as you all know, and we feel that it is within the providence of the Board of Supervisors to keep taxation at the minimum rather than the maximum. With the school budget at a tremendous new rate, the sanitary district, the junior colleges, and all of those taken in to consideration, many of the small taxpayers are having a difficult time meeting the tax burden.

It has been physically impossible for me to appear before the board, but I know that it is not too late for you to take this matter into consideration, unless the board feels that the backlash on tax payment will come with a large number of delinquencies of people who are unable to pay their taxes. I remember when the counties and the state of California had to go on warrants because of the inability of the people to meet the tax burden.

The United Taxpayers Association of San Diego County feels that this is a very serious matter and that unless something is done, there will be a complete breakdown of the people's ability to pay, which would be calamitous and disastrous.

I know that you will give this matter your utmost consideration and that you, as well as Mr. Hegland, who we feel is a very good administrator, will do your utmost to keep the tax at the minimum rather than the maximum.

With kindest personal regards for you and the other members of the board, we remain,
Yours truly,
Rev. Frank B. Gigliotti, D. D.

homily: "Sgt. Ryan always does a commendable job. Better work is the usual with Bob."

He handled many reports by visiting complainants in person and wherever he went he left a new friend.

Only once did he show fright. He had responded to a daytime call that two teen-aged boys were ransacking a house in La Mesa. The boys were armed. As he approached the house from the rear, he saw two elderly women sitting alongside a patio pool next door. He asked them to go indoors. So calm and gentlemanly was Sgt. Ryan that the women wouldn't believe there was danger. About that time one of the youngsters, with revolver drawn, came around the house. Sgt. Ryan asked the boy to put the gun down. One of the old ladies fainted. Sgt. Ryan drew his gun and said, "Maybe both of us are going to be shot. I won't have to shoot you if you drop your gun." The youngster dropped the gun and both youths were apprehended.

Later, when we talked to him about it he admitted he was frightened but he was scared for the youth — not for himself.

"That kid could have been killed," he said. Such is the personality and character of the law officer the sheriff is taking from us. If the citizens here want to start a demonstration to protest of taking the Sheriff's finest from us, we'll lead the parade.

If Your Government Gets Sick, Call Dr. Tom Warburton

A rather amazing revolution has taken place in the big Grossmont Union High School District.

A young man, Dr. Charles Thomas Warburton, recently appointed District Superintendent, is responsible for the overturning of the District's old policy.

He said the other day, "The administrative section of this District has become so overloaded with people generating paperwork that we can't get our work done."

So he lopped 17 people off the administrative staff. They weren't fired. They were put in replacement jobs as jobs occurred at the District's seven high schools.

Dr. Warburton said the paperwork demands had grown so great that the educational program was in danger of bogging down.

"It had become almost impossible to exchange ideas and intelligence in person with high school principals and vice principals because paperwork systems had been set up to do the job."

"It's one of the evils of big government," he added. "The bigger the government the higher the percentage of paperwork. People of this District are willing to pay for good educational programs but not for costly paperwork. They shouldn't be burdened with a big government."

The revolution which changed the jobs of seventeen people was not done without resistance and complaint. There are those who measured up to the Parkinson's Law which states that given a job, the employee can tailor it to fit whatever time is available. Whether those developing the paperwork load fit into the definition of this law will be revealed in time. But right now it adds up to an unusual situation where one of our local government agencies is trying to reduce itself. In government circles that's heresy!

Dr. Warburton says that the administrative section is working more efficiently with less papers to write, process and shuffle around.

It is saving the District the cost of 17 people on the payroll.

The Grossmont Union High School District tax was cut two cents on each $100 assessed valuation it was announced Monday night at the District Board meeting. The cut is not entirely reflected by reduction in numbers of salaries — but it helped.

Dr. Warburton is a rarity among government leaders. Wouldn't it be wonderful if his plan caught on as a national movement?

S.V. Firemen Answer 2 Call During Week

The Spring Valley Fire Department had a light week July 28 to Aug. 4 with two fire calls and two ambulance runs.

G. A. Goode of 8803 Bellwood ct., was washing tools with gasoline in his garage on July 30. The gasoline ignited causing flames which did about $500 damage to the building and about $200 to the contents.

A grass fire at 3665 Calavo dr. on July 30 caused no damage. Legal burning hours in the Spring Valley Local Fire District are before 9 a.m. and after 6 p.m. A burning permit is necessary and may be obtained at the Spring Valley Fire Station at no cost.

On July 30 an ambulance run was made to Naval Hospital with a Spring Valley resident and a second run was made Aug. 2 taking another resident to Doctor's Hospital.

WILSON GOES TO D.C.

Dick Wilson, Republican congressional nominee for the 37th District, announced Tuesday at a breakfast meeting of his campaign officers, that he has been invited to come to Washington, D.C. Aug. 6, 7 and 8 for a special candidate's conference with Republican leaders.

High on the agenda will be detailed logistics for winning at least 46 "marginal" congressional districts where Republicans lost by less than 5% in 1962. (The 37th was won by the Democrat incumbent by less than 3%.)

TAKE OFF — Edward L. Fitzgibbons readies a radio-controlled engine-powered drone for take-off as Spring Valley Junior High "Aviation-Introduction to Aerospace" youngsters observe. The plane is a model of a World War I British "Spad".

Future Pilots Briefed In SV Junior High Class

A radio-controlled drone recently soared above Spring Valley Junior High School playground while members of a summer school "Aviation-Introduction to Aerospace" class observed. Also observing the flight were nearby tradespeople and their customers.

The drone, a model of a World War I British "Spad" was completely controlled by radio as it became airborne, went through maneuvers and landed. At about 200 to 300 feet elevation it completed loops, snap rolls, spins, Immelman turns, Cuban eights and inverted flight.

The plane is owned by Edward L. Fitzgibbons, an engineering writer at General Dynamics - Astronautics. Fitzgibbons has been interested in aviation since childhood. He has constructed models from those powered by rubber bands to his present radio-controlled engine-powered model. He is a member of the San Diego Drones, a radio-controlled model airplane club. His son, Edward Jr., is a member of the Spring Valley Junior High summer school class.

Taught by Vice Principal Fred Griffith, the boys have studied aircraft construction, power plants, airports and navigation aids as well as aerodynamics. The students have visited Lindbergh Field, Miramar Naval Air Station, the Weather Bureau and the Aerospace Museum.

SV Democrats Seat Officers

Newly elected members of the Spring Valley Democratic Club will serve until the first meeting after Labor Day in line with the club's newly adopted Constitution.

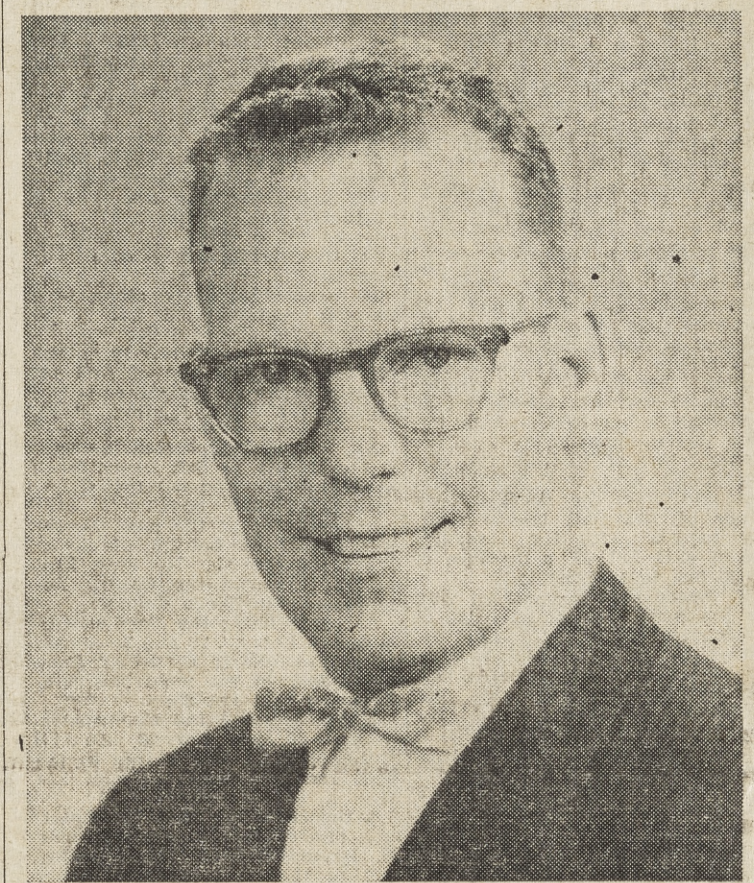

Officers are: Frank Berger, president; Dave Ballesteros, vice president; Dean Snyed, treasurer, and Rosalie Graham, secretary.

—Smaller deficits on balance of payments.

—Not so much danger of sharply rising interest rates as seemed likely earlier this year, although an upward pressure is expected to develop as 1964 progresses.

—Consumer spending to reach record level during 1964. This should include a record year for auto sales, as well as increased spending on other durable goods.

—Continued high activity in housing construction during 1964, but new housing starts are expected to decline moderately from the heights of early 1964.

—Slower increase in government spending.

by Peter Odens

CUCAMONGA, Calif. — A faithful servant tried to keep his master's treasure from the enemy - and a legend was born in Cucamonga.

In 1839, Governor Juan B. Alvarado of Alta California gave a tremendous land grant to Don Tiburcio Tapia who was then serving as alcalde of the Pueblo de Nuestra Senora de los Angeles. Don Tiburcio, a wealthy man by any standards, lost no time in improving his new grant, and vineyards and fields sprang up in the valley to the east of Los Angeles.

But those were days of unrest and when war developed between Mexico and the United States, there were many who feared not so much for their lives but for their property, their jewelry and their gold. Among them was William P. Reynolds who had a cache on Santa Catalina Island, and there were others who, as did Reynolds, came to Don Tiburcio and asked him to take care of their valuables for them while the situation was unsettled.

Don Tiburcio pondered the problem for a while. What would happen if the enemy came to his ranch and asked him, the highly respected alcalde, about the gold and jewelry of his friends? He could not tell a lie, not Don Tiburcio Tapia!

He summoned his Indian servant Juan Valenzuela and ordered him to place all the jewelry into a large oak chest. "Take this chest and bury it," he commanded. "And do not tell anybody where you hide it - not even me - until the danger is past and I tell you to bring the chest back to the ranch."

The Indian promised to do as bidden and rode off with the oak chest. The wisdom of Don Tiburcio soon became apparent for the Americans arrived on their drive southward and, in search of treasures owned by the Mexicans, directed their steps to the ranch of Don Tiburcio who was reportedly one of the richest men in the area. But they questioned him without success for he could truthfully say that he did not know where the oak chest with the money and the jewelry had been hidden.

Eventually, the Americans found out that Juan Valenzuela had been put in charge of the chest and questioned him, but he merely shrugged his shoulders and said, "Me tell you - me die."

Playing upon the superstitions of the Indian, a ventriloquist was called in, and again Juan Valenzuela was questioned. It was night time and weird ghosts were dancing out of the flames as the ventriloquist projected his voice into this corner and that in order to frighten the Indian.

Again, Valenzuela refused to reveal the hiding place but finally, he could not stand it any longer. "Caramba - the devil is here!" he cried, jumped up and out of the window into the night to take refuge in the mountains beyond Cucamonga.

Eventually, peace was restored and many Mexicans, including Don Tiburcio, became U.S. citizens. It was then that he sent out a vaquero to locate Juan Valenzuela and to bring him back to the rancho. The Indian was found and told to return to Don Tiburcio. But on the way, his horse slipped and, together with Juan, fell down a ravine. The faithful servant was killed without revealing the secret hiding place of the treasure.

In vain, Tapia had the area searched for the oak chest. After his death, his daughter, Dona Maria Merced, the wife of Victor, Prudhomme, continued the search, but the treasure was never found.

Where had Juan Valenzuela buried the gold? Some rumors had it that he had hidden it under a tree at the foot of what is today Red Hill near U.S. Highway 66. In 1936, treasure hunters wrecked the walls of a building on the old Rancho Cucamonga where they suspected the treasure had been buried. The search was as futile as all others or even more so, for the building had been erected many years after Tapia's death.

Even today there are those who live in hope that some day they will be able to find the oak chest. Some say that there has never been such a treasure at all. But this is too horrible a thought for the treasure hunters who have to give up the search - and it is the hunt which is so often more important than the treasure.

We think one of the major benefits of a freezer is often neglected: the freezing of leftovers and the preparation and freezing of foods for future use.

"Be Meals Ahead With Your Freezer" is the theme for my cooking school this month. I hope you will be able to attend for new ideas on freezer living. The school will be Tuesday, Aug. 11, from 12:30 to 2 p.m. and again on Tuesday, Aug. 25, from 10 a.m. to 11:30, in the comfortable air-conditioned Gracious Living Center of the San Diego Gas & Electric Company's Eastern District Office, at 104 North Johnson Street in El Cajon.

We'll show you how to prepare two casseroles at once — serve one and freeze the other. Recipes will cover Monterey Shrimp and Turkey casseroles. We'll also show you how to freeze large pieces of meat... using a turkey as an example. And, we'll make a basic barbecue mixture in quantity to freeze and show you six different ways to use it.

It can be helpful to make desserts in advance and freeze them. We'll do a lemon meringue pie. You freeze the pie, or pies, and add the meringue when you serve.

Join us, won't you. We'll give you other hints on the freezer, have a question and answer session, and also talk about entertainment foods including quick sandwiches and cakes. There'll be door prizes and admission is free.

Registration To Begin August 26 At SV Schools

Registration for children who will attend local elementary and junior high schools in the La Mesa-Spring Valley School District will begin at the elementary schools Wednesday, Aug. 26, and at the junior high schools Monday, Aug. 31, according to Dr. David Pascoe, assistant superintendent, in-struction.

Classes will resume Monday, Sept. 14.

Children attending local schools at the close of the semester in June need not register. Children who will be attending the district's schools

Important health information such as dates of smallpox, polio, and diphtheria inoculations should also be brought at that time. Both oral and Salk vaccines are acceptable inoculations for registration. Excluding those parents who have indicated they are adverse to the new polio law, polio inoculations are mandatory. If a child has not received inoculation before entering school, he will be given a two-week grace period in order to do so.

If there is a question of what school is to be attended, information may be secured by calling the district office, 469-6171, extension 17 or 13.

Following is a list of schools in the Spring Valley area.

In registering children for kindergarten, parents should bring proof of the child's birth date with them. The California State Education Code requires that a child "shall be four years and nine months of age on or before September of the current school year" in order to enter kindergarten. In other words, he should be five years old on or before December 1, 1964. Minimum entering age for first graders in the La Mesa-Spring Valley School District is five years and nine months.

A birth certificate, baptismal record, signed affidavit from parent or guardian, or other verification of birth should be presented at the time of regis-

RETIREMENT CENTER — An artists drawing shows one of the units of the Covenant Retirement Center now being built in the La Presa area. The center is being built by the Evangelical Covenant Church of America. The proposed 10-unit retirement home is being constructed on San Carlos between Kempton and Conception. The development will have studio apartments and one and two bedroom units. Builders said the site was chosen because of the mild climate and the view of Sweetwater Lake.

Continuing Growth Seen For La Presa By Realtor

The La Presa area of Spring Valley is experiencing more growing pains, Realtor Ed Fackler, Jr., said last week. And more is to come, he pointed out. A surprise has been brought to the people of this area by the construction of seven apartment buildings along Grand ave. Nearly all the units are now occupied, said Fackler. Some even have a swimming pool, he said. Another apartment building is under construction west of Jamacha blvd.

Besides many new homes going into the area, La Presa has a new machine shop, an auto service, a tavern and a new music store being built on Grand ave.

Another project in the La Presa area, well under way, is the La Presa Plaza, just east of Jamacha blvd. on Grand. A shopping area, La Presa Plaza will accommodate 11 stores, with the inside being expandable to accommodate larger floor space for those who will require it. Alfred De Paul of Pacific Beach is the builder. The front of the building will be wood and stone. There will be ample parking space at both the front and rear. No date has yet been set for the opening.

Approximately nine acres with 4½ more acres for option have been purchased by the Evangelical Covenant Church of America for a ten-unit, motel-style retirement home, to be built on San Carlos from Kempton to Conception st. about a quarter of a mile from Sweetwater Lake. The first unit of the project is now under construction, with a parsonage already being occupied by Rev. Donald Sands.

Contractor is Ray Rabe of Lemon Grove and architects are Robert De Lauriers and John Sigurdson, with offices at 9349 El Cajon blvd. The first portion of the land was formerly owned by Palme Gudmundson of La Presa ave.

Jess Bailey, chairman of the board of trustees, said that approximately $100,000 has already been spent on the project and that he expects another $50,000 will be spent before the project is completed, which may take several years. Before the first unit is completed, work will begin on units 2 and 3, Bailey said.

Applications are now being accepted by future tenants. Cost per person has been estimated at about $150 per month. This will include rent, food, some medical care and possibly help with the housework.

There will be studio apartment, and one and two bedroom units. Each will have its own private entrance opening into a terrace or patio.

The south half of Dictionary Hill is due for extensive improvement. Recently Kenneth Golden and the E. C. Losch Co., contractors, were awarded contracts for their low bid of $1,924,944.11 to put in water and sewer lines, drainage, street improvements, etc.

WINNING DESIGNS
Grossmont College students William Stonebaker of Spring Valley, Robert Stanley of Lemon Grove, and Edward Witke of Grossmont received awards in a design contest sponsored by the San Diego-La Jolla chapter of the American Institute of Building Design.

Tomorrow Is Here!

By Joan Inig

If you are not confused today there is something wrong with you — because tomorrow is here! — with all of its fantastic change and fabulous creations. Yesterday was filled with antiquities — but today history is on the run. One of the first UNIVAC computers to be used commercially is now a museum piece. It is only about 14 years old! Col. John Glenn's Friendship 7 is now an historic symbol — it is only two and a half years old!

The sweep of change affects the homes you live in, the offices and factories you work in, the way you travel — the things you eat and wear. One of the most profound changes here in the San Diego area are the sleek, smart, steel apartment buildings, dotting the landscape of a city in motion, a backdrop for the future which is today. And the Charles C. Richardson Construction Company of 3010 Cowley Way, in San Diego, your reputable, state licensed general contractor, is one of the creators responsible for that new look into the future. Specializing in apartment buildings, Convention Halls, residential and commercial buildings — you'll find quality workmanship and beauty of design in every "Charles C. Richardson" building in San Diego County.
